Mid-Year Workshop

Saturday, June 25th • 9am-5pm

This year's Orlando workshop features five tracks: Picture Book, Middle Grade, Young Adult, Poetry, and Digital Media. Participants will stay in their chosen track for the entire day for writing exercises, first page critiques and market information regarding their genre. The tracks ensure small group interactions and a more focused learning environment.

Picture Books with: Priscilla Burris, SCBWI National Illustration Coordinator, Emma Dryden of Dryden Books/Consulting, Alan Katz, children's book author, and Alexandra Penfold, editor with Paula Wiseman Books at Simon & Schuster BFYR.

Middle Grade with: Gordon Korman, author, and Joanna Stampf-Volpe, agent with Nancy Coffey Literary & Media Representation.

Poetry with: Award winning author and editor, Lee Bennett Hopkins, and Kristin Daly Rens, editor at Balzer + Bray, an imprint of HarperCollins.

Digital Media with: Emma Dryden, 25 year veteran in children's publishing, Dryden Books/Consulting, Rubin Pfeffer, agent with EastWest Literary Agency, and author/mentor Joyce Sweeney, as Moderator. Stay in front of the rapidly advancing digitalization in children's publishing with this workshop covering: eBooks, book trailers, picture book apps, electronic rights and more.

First Page Critiques

Track leaders will select a few submissions to read aloud and critique. Bring the first page of your novel or picture book (double spaced, 12 pt. type, 250 words or less) 1 page only to your workshop track. Include the title and genre, but not your name or other personal information.

Paid Critiques are available for participants, both writers and illustrators, for an additional fee and limited to 4 critiques per person. Sorry, but we CANNOT honor requests for specific critiquers. SUBMISSIONS MUST BE POSTMARKED BY MAY 21, 2011.

Illustrators: Bring artwork, portfolios and/or dummies to your workshop. Mail Critique Submissions Form to Michelle Delisle (see form for details) and fees/registration form to SCBWI FLORIDA (see Registration Form) or register online at: www.scbwiiflorida.com.

Writers: Include two copies of your manuscript (up to 10 pages* in standard format) with your Critique submission Form and mail to Michelle Delisle (see Critique submission form for details). Mail fees/registration form to SCBWI FLORIDA (see Registration Form) or register online at: www.scbwiiflorida.com.

* Although a picture book may have fewer than ten pages, each separate piece counts as a separate submission.
 Submission format is explained at www.scbwi.org "From Keyboard to Printed Page: Facts You Need to Know."
